FACULTY

We have high expectations of our teachers. We expect our teachers to be above average, to maintain the highest standards of professional, personal and ethical conduct, to be excellent role models as educators and learners.

CHRISTOPHER GREULICH

Headmaster

Teacher of History

What happened? Who was responsible? Why did it happen? What were the wider implications? How do we know about what people did in the past and how true is what we know? These are just some of the questions which make History a truly exciting subject for historical detectives and analysts. You may be surprised by the many perspectives you get when you look for the answer. Join me in the search for historical truth.
